

Epsilon Sigma Phi (ESP) Trivia Quiz 2003

Name _____ State _____

Complete this quiz and turn it in at the ESP booth in the exhibit area. The first 50 quizzes turned in with all correct answers will receive a prize. Answer sheets are available at the booth.

ESP 75th Anniversary Committee members and Alpha Chapter members are not eligible for prizes.

1. Which President of the United States signed the legislation to establish the land-grant colleges? _____
2. What do the acronyms of the four participating organizations in Galaxy II stand for?
NAE4-HA _____
ESP _____
ANREP _____
NEAFCS _____
3. Where did agricultural Extension work begin? _____
4. What year and where was ESP founded? _____
5. What were early Extension family and consumer science educators called?

6. Name the small beetle pest that created a need for the first agricultural Extension work. _____
7. The group initiating the Galaxy conferences is JCEP. What does that acronym stand for?

8. Instead of car mileage what kind of travel allowance was given to many Extension employees in the early part of the 20th Century?

9. The fourth "H" added to the 4-H clover in 1911 stands for _____.

ESP Trivia Quiz 2003 (continued)

10. Which participating organization in Galaxy II was instrumental in obtaining retirement benefits for all Extension employees nationwide?

11. What organization was established on May 8, 1914?

12. In what state was the first county Extension agent in the US located in 1911?

13. Who is considered to be the “Father of Extension?”

14. Which act of Congress established the Agricultural Extension Service (later called Cooperative Extension Service)?

15. What do these acronyms stand for?
ECOP _____
NASULGC _____
PILD _____
16. Which of the four participating organizations in Galaxy II is for all Extension employees? _____
17. What were early boys and girls (now 4-H) clubs called?

18. Of the four participating organizations in Galaxy II, which is the newest?

19. When and where was Galaxy I held? _____
20. What is the highest ESP award for an Extension person?

Trivia quiz and answers developed by Epsilon Sigma Phi 75th Anniversary Committee and Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Phi, Bozeman, Montana. A variety of sources were used.

Epsilon Sigma Phi (ESP): The Cooperative Extension Professionals’ Organization.

The mission of Epsilon Sigma Phi is to foster the standards of excellence in the Extension system and to develop the Extension Profession and Professional.

Join today!