

---

YOUR Donation:

- Gives national exposure to your business
- Attracts attention to your product or service
- Impresses visitors with our hospitality

THANK YOU

for supporting the recognition and professional development of Cooperative Extension educators who live and work throughout the USA.

EPSILON SIGMA PHI

The Extension
Professional's Organization

Scholarship Auction
Donations

---

Epsilon Sigma Phi is an organization that fosters standards of excellence in the Extension system and offers opportunities to develop the Extension profession and professional.

- More than 9,000 Extension faculty are members of Epsilon Sigma Phi.
- Membership is open to all personnel of the Cooperative Extension System of the United States Department of Agriculture and counties in all states.
- Members are university professionals associated with land grant universities across the United States.
- Cooperative Extension professionals conduct applied research and disseminate the results for citizens to use in their everyday lives and businesses.

Proceeds from the Epsilon Sigma Phi Scholarship auction support:

- Public Issues Leadership Development Conference Scholarships
- Administrative Leadership Scholarships
- Chapter Mini-grant programs
- Professional Development Scholarships
- Life Member Registration Reductions

The Annual Epsilon Sigma Phi National Conference will be November 14-17, 2006 in Annapolis, Maryland. The Scholarship Auction will be held during the conference with 300—400 people in attendance.

ESP relies on the generosity of businesses and buyers for the $15,000 needed annually to support these scholarships and recognition programs.

The value of auction items typically range from $25 to $2,500.

Epsilon Sigma Phi is registered as a non-profit organization. Your donation to the Scholarship Auction is tax deductible.

Questions regarding donations or the auction can be directed to:
Michelle Rodgers
Penn State Cooperative Extension
Phone: 717-948-6326
Email: mrodgers@psu.edu